If you follow Belarus releases, thank you for noticing I skipped chapter 6. Truth be told, I was still waiting for my original list to translate it (Polina said she'll finally have time next week). But I read someone release their own version of what an hate to. I've already started translating two weeks ago to the chapters after 6. And because I'm so immune to not want someone else release before I do, I wanted to release my translation first. So chapter 6 might not be ready until later, but I'm halfway through it though. Another note, forget my mistranslation of "I'm still sure to it, in fact I'm worried I might have got a more accurate one some wrong BFI is it Shays or Shes, I can't find the book?" Enjoy!
